

Shiny New Gadget Of The Month: Magic Wand Universal Remote

Harry Potter might be over, but your magic show is just beginning.

This is no ordinary universal remote control. The Magic Wand Programmable TV Remote will learn up to 13 commands from your existing remote controls and map them to particular magical motions. The Wand can learn from any remote in your house, and once you master its 13 movements, you can mastermind a symphony of electronic enjoyment from the comfort of your couch.

With a little practice you can flip the channel with a flick of your wand and twist your wand to turn up the volume. It's compatible with almost all makes of TV, DVR, or really anything with a remote!

No more boring channel changing, now you can be the wizard you've always dreamed of being! Bonus—this one is a lot easier to hide from the kids than a regular-sized remote.

You know you want one...learn more and order yours at www.thinkgeek.com.

J.M. Smucker's Rules For Success

In an article I wrote a while back called Corporate Culture Counts, I briefly wrote about the J.M. Smucker Company. I believe this company is an excellent role model to follow for teaching anyone how to successfully run a business today. Founded in 1897, this company now employs over 4,800 employees and is doing over $4.7 billion in sales. Tim and Richard Smucker are the Co-CEOs for the J.M. Smucker Company and they believe they serve 6 constituents:

*“the consumer, the retailer, our employees, our suppliers,
our communities, and our shareholders.
We believe if we take care of the first five,
the sixth will automatically be taken care of.”*

They live and work by the creed, You Will Reap What You Sow. Here are their rules for achieving success in business:

- Let the Golden Rule guide every decision.
- Don't have secret strategies – make sure everyone knows the strategy and knows their role.
- Have a culture that promises people a better tomorrow based on their good work.
- Don't be content; you're responsible for making things better.
- Doubt your own infallibility.
- Have faith. Believe in a higher force.
- Don't do what you know only for material rewards – be called to your life's work and have a purpose.
- Laugh and have a sense of humor.

In a world where corrupt deception abounds, it is refreshing to have such a prominent company set a great example of just the opposite. But their written words are only a guide to follow; it is your leadership, your example, your culture that will determine your success.

Guest article provided by:

Robert Stevenson is a highly sought after, internationally known speaker. He is the author of the best-selling books “How to Soar Like An Eagle in a World Full of Turkeys” and “52 Essential Habits For Success.” Robert is a graduate of the Georgia Institute of Technology (Georgia Tech) and is a former All-American Athlete. He started his first business at 24 and has owned several companies. Robert has international sales experience dealing in over 20 countries and his client list reads like a Who's Who in Business. He has shared the podium with such renowned names as Generals Colin Powell and Norman Schwarzkopf, Former President George H.W. Bush, Anthony Robbins and Steven Covey. www.robertstevenson.org/

The Lighter Side...

Never Argue With A Woman

One morning the husband returns after several hours of fishing and decides to take a nap.

Although not familiar with the lake, the wife decides to take the boat out. She motors out a short distance, anchors, and reads her book.

Along comes a game warden in his boat. He pulls up alongside the woman and says, "Good morning, Ma'am. What are you doing?"

"Reading a book," she replies, (thinking, "Isn't that obvious?")

"You're in a Restricted Fishing Area," he informs her.

"I'm sorry, officer, but I'm not fishing. I'm reading."

"Yes, but you have all the equipment. For all I know you could start at any moment. I'll have to take you in and write you up."

"For reading a book?" she replies.

"You're in a Restricted Fishing Area," he informs her again.

"I'm sorry, officer, but I'm not fishing. I'm reading."

"Yes, but you have all the equipment. For all I know you could start at any moment. I'll have to take you in and write you up."

"If you do that, I'll have to charge you with Sexual assault," says the woman.

"But I haven't even touched you," says the game warden.

"That's true, but you have all the equipment. For all I know you could start at any moment."

"Have a nice day ma'am," and he left.

Marketing ROI: Are You Measuring?

These days, the Web gives everyone—B2B companies, consumer brands, consultants, nonprofits, schools, etc.—a tremendous opportunity to reach people and engage them in new and different ways.

Now we can earn attention by creating and publishing online for free something interesting and valuable: a YouTube video, a blog, a research report, photos, a Twitter stream, an e-book, a Facebook page. But how should we measure the success of this new kind of marketing? The answer is that we need new metrics.

I'm critical of applying old forms of offline measurement to online marketing. There are many ways to track progress such as how people participate in your social networking sites, how many people are reading and downloading your work, and how many are making inquiries about or buying your products and services. Here are some things you can measure:

1. How many people are eager to participate in your online efforts? (You can measure how many people "like" you on Facebook, subscribe to your blog, follow you on Twitter, sign up for your email newsletter, or register for a Webinar).
2. How many people are downloading your stuff? (You can measure how many people are downloading your ebooks, presentation slides, videos, podcasts, and other content.)
3. How often are bloggers writing about you and your ideas?
4. And what are those bloggers saying?
5. Where are you appearing in search results for important phrases?
6. How many people are engaging with you and choosing to speak to you about your offerings? (You can measure how many people are responding to contact forms and making requests for information.)
7. How are sales looking? Is the company reaching its goals? (Ultimately, the most important form of measurement within management teams is revenue and profit.)

Guest article provided by:
www.davidmeermanscott.com
David Meerman Scott's book The New Rules of Marketing & PR opened people's eyes to the new realities of marketing and public relations on the Web. Six months on the BusinessWeek bestseller list and published in 26 languages from Bulgarian to Vietnamese, New Rules, now in its second edition, is a modern business classic. Scott's popular blog and hundreds of speaking engagements around the world give him a singular perspective on how businesses are implementing new strategies to reach buyers.

XP Migration

Please call us if you have a pc that has windows xp on it and is dying or on its last legs. As long as the pc boots we can migrate your current system to a brand new system and keep all your old settings the same.

Please don't wait until the pc doesn't boot, it's too late to help and all we can do is install a new operating system and then try to help you recover your files. Call us today for help at (314) 993-5528.

Get More Free Tips, Tools and Services At My Web Site: www.jbtech.com

How Is A Pawn Shop Like A Good Referral Process?

Have you noticed lately how more and more reality shows are cropping up about finding treasures in your rubble and selling old items for quick cash? Shows like "Pawn Stars" and "American Pickers" have become very popular and are inspiring people to look through all the stuff they have piled up to see if they might have hidden gems they can cash in.

The guys who run the shops work hard. They run around nonstop looking for items to buy, purchase things they *think* they can sell for a profit and then hope for the best.

In many ways, these shop owners are just like you, working hard to find new customers and then taking a chance on new ones that you *hope* will become long-term clients. And this particular exchange of goods for money is similar to a business referral system.

How do you find the treasures (customers) you want in your business? Here are a few ways to get "pickers" working for your business:

- Set up a referral system that encourages existing customers to spread the word about you.
- Run a monthly referral contest that rewards those with the most referrals.
- Include a referral notice and incentive in every invoice or communication with your customers.

Just like the pawn shop owners need to know what they are looking for in a pile of rubble, you need to be sure that your "pickers" have a detailed description of what a good customer looks like for you.

With these systems in place, you'll have new treasures in no time.

A Simple Way To Increase Employee Productivity

According to a University of Utah study, you can increase your efficiency (or your employees' efficiency) by 25% just by adding a second monitor. With multiple monitors, you can get more done since you aren't minimizing and maximizing all day long. Therefore, adding monitors can be a money maker for your company.

The study documentation states that 108 university and non-university personnel participated in a comparison of single monitor, multi-monitor, and multi-monitor with Hydravision display configurations. Respondents edited slide shows, spreadsheets, and text documents in a simulation of office work, using each of the display arrays. Performance measures—including task time, editing time, number of edits completed, and number of errors made, as well as usability measures evaluating effectiveness, comfort, learning ease, time to productivity, quickness of recovery from mistakes, ease of task tracking, ability to maintain task focus, and ease of movement among sources—were combined into an overall evaluation of productivity. Multi-screens scored significantly higher on every measure. Respondents got on task quicker, did the work faster, and got more of the work done with fewer errors in multi-screen configurations than with a single screen.

Consider trying this in your office. Add a monitor or two to your desk and to those of your employees. See what kind of feedback you get and how much more efficient and productive they become when they have the ability to move quicker, use multiple applications at once and no longer have to constantly minimize windows.

---

“Referrals are the lifeblood of all businesses, they turn small businesses into big businesses, now get $25.00 for each one!”

Each and every day a customer comes in and says “you come highly recommended” or “my friend / co-worker / neighbor told me to just bring it here” Most of you may have referred people to us in the past and I want to personally take the time to thank you for your help and confidence in us.

I would also like to take the time to say that we are striving to get better at our service. We would like to get an email address when you drop off a computer so we can email a status report. We have invested in an alerting software that enables us to have a jump on any issues you might have. We are adding new vendors to our recommended list so that we can continue to treat you the way you deserve to be serviced.

Please help me continue this trend. If you have any advice or product or service or just want to chat, please call me and let me know. We get our best ideas from helping you and we want that to continue. Thank you again for being such a great client and with your help we can really improve our service.