When Do I Refer a Patient to ABCD?

When is it time to refer a patient to ABCD? ABCD is here to not only offer emotional support, but also resources to patients. Below are feelings, questions and fears we help breast cancer patients overcome.

FEELINGS

I am so overwhelmed.

I feel so alone.

I just want to talk to someone who understands.

I'm scared.

QUESTIONS

Will I be able to work?

Will I be able to exercise?

How do I tell loved ones?

How will I deal with physical limitations?

FEARS

I'm worried about losing my hair.

Recurrence on anniversary date.

Recurrence on mammogram date.

We answer these feelings, questions and fears with compassion, empathy and hope. If any of your patients are in need of emotional support please refer them directly to ABCD or complete your consent to contact form.

Your Patients Are More than Breast Cancer

ABCD knows that your patients are more than their breast cancer diagnosis - that's why we match on the personal as well as the diagnostic.

We're here to connect your patients with someone who understands what they're going through - to help them get the emotional support they need.
