- Bachelor of Early Childhood Education – 3 years duration

What does a Dermatologist do?

According to the, Good Universities Guide a dermatologist specialises in the treatment of skin diseases such as eczema, acne, skin infections and psoriasis, using techniques such as ultraviolet light therapy, photodynamic therapy and laser treatment. Dermatologists also detect and treat skin cancers.

Dermatologists fulfil activities such as performing skin examinations, informing patients about the need for annual screenings, sun protection, skin cancer awareness and skin-based self-examinations. They also diagnose and treat a range of skin conditions, including acne, skin cancer and athlete's foot.

A dermatologist needs to have good communication skills, be able to exercise high ethical standards, be compassionate, and also have a high degree of motivation and self-discipline.

A dermatologist is a medical specialist which requires further study after completing a medical degree. To become a medical practitioner, students need to study medicine at university.

Bachelor of Biomedicine to Master of Physiotherapy

The Bachelor of Biomedicine at La Trobe University is a suitable degree to use as a pathway to the 2-year Master of Physiotherapy Practice. So, as long as students ensure they complete compulsory tertiary-level subjects in anatomy, neuroanatomy, physiology and biomechanics, and meet the minimum requirements of a WAM of 65 per cent and all relevant prerequisites, they set themselves up to be eligible to be considered for entry into the Master of Physiotherapy Practice.

The Master of Physiotherapy Practice is accredited by the Australian Physiotherapy Council, and graduates of the Master of Physiotherapy Practice may be eligible to apply for registration with the Physiotherapy Board of Australia.
