

Interstate Roof Systems Consultants, Inc.

OZAUKEE COUNTY JUSTICE CENTER

Brief The 18-year-old roof had recurring leaks for ten years, disrupting court hearings along with costly water damage repairs.

Description:

IRSC conducted diagnostic tests and found that the underlayment below the metal roof had been installed incorrectly.

Solution: A new design incorporating a thermoplastic roof system was used to replicate the look of the old roof.

The new roof not only provided long-term performance but also maintained the aesthetics of the original metal one – and the entire project was completed under budget.

Project

Specifics: Ozaukee County Justice Center
Administration Roof
Port Washington, WI

Size: 12,000 square feet

Cost: $241,500

Contractor: Cudahy Roofing

Owner: Ozaukee County Justice Center

Contact: Gerard Behlan

