

Banking and Credit Card alerts

Banks

- Most banks have many options for alerts and notifications for your accounts as well as your credit and debit cards. This will be set up in the notification section of your account. This will let you set up both email and text message alerts for a variety of things such as:
  - o Account Deposits and Withdraws
  - o ATM withdrawals
  - o Debit and Credit card purchases that exceed an amount that you se
  - o Suspicious activity is detected on your account

Credit Card

- Most credit card companies offer similar notifications as the banks do that can be set up on your account. These include:
  - o Credit card purchases that exceed an amount that you set
  - o Purchase is made online, by phone, by mail, or outside the US
  - o Suspicious activity on your account

