

So Long, Phone Company.
Hello, CleanVoice.

So Long, Phone Company. Hello, CleanVoice.

Why would you pay more for less? If a pizzeria offered you a large pizza with any toppings you wanted for only 5 bucks, or you could buy a medium 1-topping pizza for $15, which would you select? That's kind of how it is with your business phone line: your phone company wants to charge you hundreds of dollars every month for lines which are anchored to their desks, or you can use CleanVoice virtually anywhere you want, for a fraction of that cost. Again – which will you select?

Find the Fantastic Freedom of Flexibility.

Nowadays, if you're not able to do business outside of the office, you're losing productivity. With CleanVoice, you actually can take your phone with you anywhere. While you can still retain that desk phone of yours, you can also immediately transfer calls to a cell phone, or even make a call from your business line using your laptop anywhere in the world, so long as you have a headset with a microphone and a Wi-Fi signal. You can also add and remove lines as needed without the need for time-consuming installation or wiring. With CleanVoice, your productivity goes up while your expenses come down.

Celebrate the Congenial Confidence of Cost-Cutting.

CleanVoice does not use traditional phone services to make calls – it is entirely Internet-based. Thereby, your bill to the phone company vanishes, and you pay only for the CleanVoice service and perhaps some hardware. And don't forget instant addition of lines, even outside of the workplace: if an employee arranges to begin working from home, setting up a CleanVoice line for them at their home computer is as simple as plugging in a USB device and configuring the line. Done. No gigantic phone company installation costs, no grief – just productivity and efficiency.

Win with a Whole Week of Working, Whatever the Weather.

It's Boston. We get lousy weathers here. Everyone in the country knows it from watching the white-out conditions of some of the Patriots winter home games. But, as Bostonians, sometimes we have to adopt the US Postal Service's slogan and work "Through rain, sleet, snow, or hail." But just because many of us have that dedication doesn't ensure your phone system will stay up and active. Thankfully, with ClearVoice, you don't have that concern, and you can still make calls from anywhere since it's completely power outage and disaster-proof!

(Okay, if the earth were to collide with Neptune, for example, then yes -- it is likely your phone system might not function properly. Failing that, it's pretty sturdy.)
