Our Technology Assessment is an invaluable first step toward achieving the most productive and successful use of technology within your business. We'll answer three key questions regarding an organization's information technology:

1. Where Are We Now?

Apex Technology Management Network Engineers will conduct on-site physical and virtual inspections and automated software scans of your network, perform internal and external security testing, and hold personal interviews with key members of your staff—thereby gathering all of the complex network infrastructure data to fully assess your business' current technology and processes.

2. Where Do We Need to Be?

Our expert engineers will make an in-depth analysis of the collected data, and compare and contrast your current I.T. state with the impartial standard of I.T. industry's best practices. Gaps and areas of concern will be identified and prioritized by severity. The good news is that we won't just tell you what's wrong; we'll show you how to fix it as well.

3. How Do We Get There?

Once the areas of concern have been discovered and prioritized, Apex Technology Management will identify and recommend specific, concrete solutions for the remediation of any issues or concerns—virtually providing you with a step-by-step "To-Do" list.

To conclude the Assessment, we will compile and present several reports to you—ranging from high-level Executive Summaries to extremely detailed technical documentation. These valuable reports will contain our full assessment of the present state of your I.T. environment, gaps analysis, and prioritized solution recommendations. You can then utilize Apex Technology Management or other I.T. support resources to follow this simple "I.T. road map" into a secure and confident future for the organization.

So what are you waiting for? Don't settle for a less-than-transformational I.T. environment.
