

Andamiro USA's Drew Maniscalco (left) and Satinder Bhutani (right) were joined by the firm's Korea-based President C.S. Lee (center) in presenting the S-Cube, a 100% skill merchandiser in a smaller cabinet.

Barron Games' Greg (left) and Anna Bacorn show off their product line to Doug Bryant of Jungle Rapids in Wilmington, N.C.

Benchmark Games' Tony Maniscalco (right) visits with Eric Cutler of Cocktail Hour Entertainment in Lake Worth, Fla. They are discussing Mini Motor Racing Arcade, a prototype game that Benchmark brought to the show to gauge operator interest.

Elaut USA's Neal Rosenberg, (left) and Glenn Kramer (center) with factory topper Eric Verstraeten, who oversees the company from its HQ in Belgium, and the new Ticket Circus pusher. The firm held a special dinner to celebrate both the company's half-century legacy of making games and Rosenberg as he prepares to retire.

Coastal Amusements' Lenny Dean demonstrates the factory's new Yahtzee video redemption game to Florida operators Mike Abecassis and Jim Riolo of the M & A Group.

Sega President Paul Williams (left) and sales pro Vince Moreno (second from right) welcomed Northwest distributors Mike McWilliams and Heidi Olsen Hughey of Specialty Coin.

UNIS' top exec Louis Lu, who oversees the manufacturing business, and GM Steven Tan with their new Safari Ranger video redemption game. See more UNIS games in our IAAPA new product catalog.

Family Entertainment Group topper George Smith (pictured at left) visits with Coast to Coast Entertainment's John Maurer, Jim Chapman and Gary Balaban.